

About Stephen R. Clark

Author of the award-winning new religious thriller, The Hungering Dark: Awakening.

Stephen R. Clark is a member of the Evangelical Press Association, the National Association of Evangelicals, and the principal of CleverSmith™ Writing (www.CleverSmith.com) based in Oreland, Pennsylvania, as well as the writer of the award-winning blog, FaithBraided™ (www.FaithBraided.com). He has been writing for more than forty years.

Stephen is originally from New Castle, Indiana where he graduated from Walter P. Chrysler High School. He attended Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri earning a B.A. in English and Biblical Studies, with a minor in Psychology. He recently earned a Certificate in Theology and Ministry from Princeton Theological Seminary.

He has authored short stories, poetry, online content, ad copy, scripts, speeches, direct mail, feature articles, and much more. He has also ghostwritten several Christian books including Preparing for Battle by Mark Bubeck (Moody Press). He has contributed chapters to compilations, devotionals, and other books including the NIV Men's Devotional Bible (Zondervan) and Inside Mysteries of the Bible (Time & American Bible Society).

He is joyfully married to BethAnn Clark, and they are members of Huntingdon Valley Presbyterian Church in Huntingdon Valley, Pennsylvania.

He also walked on fire. Once.

You can visit his personal web site at www.StephenRClark.com where you can learn more about him and his other books.

Follow Stephen online at these social media sites:

www.twitter.com/stephenrclark

www.facebook.com/StephenRClarkWriter

www.linkedin.com/in/stephenrclark

=====

NOTE:

You can view more detailed bios at <http://www.faithbraided.com/p/about.html>, <http://www.stephenrclark.com/bio/default.htm>, and <http://www.clevermithwriting.com/about.htm>.

His resume is available at <http://www.stephenrclark.com/resume/default.htm>.

A photo can be downloaded at <http://www.stephenrclark.com/hd/author.htm>.